Reasons for Allowance

1. The result that is a practical application is found in ¶0008 and ¶0043.
2. Claims 11-19 and 21-23 are considered allowable since when reading the claims in light of the specification (MPEP § 211.01) or In re Sneed, 710 F.2d 1544, 1548, 218 USPQ 385, 388 (Fed. Cir. 1983), none of the references of record alone or in combination disclose or suggest the combination of limitations specified in independent claim 1, including “the ADTree database structure provides dynamic pruning of less frequently used branches when system memory is low” (supported at e. g., ¶0057), whereby a database is processed to eliminate missing values in records by using an ADTree database structure with dynamic pruning of less frequently used branches when memory is low and using a resulting high-scoring network to compute a decision for a new case.

The closest prior art (Freund et al., “The alternating decision tree learning algorithm” sets forth the methodology”) sets forth the concept of the ADTree data structure which is a generalization of decision trees, voted decision trees and voted decision stumps that is based on boosting. However, Freund does not teach dynamic pruning of the ADTree database structure conditioned on less frequently used branches when system memory is low. While Freund references Margineautu et al. [11] regarding “Pruning adaptive boosting”, Margineautu’s teachings do not address dynamic pruning of less frequently used branches when system memory is low.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
